INTERNATIONAL BLUE CRESCENT RELIEF AND DEVELOPMENT FOUNDATION

has been providing humanitarian aid and support to the host community and thousands of Syrian refugees in the province of Kilis for about 6 years. As a continuation of these studies at the Community Center for refugees and host community in Kilis, the social work improvement project is carried out in partnership with GIZ-German International Cooperation Agency and SDC - Swiss Development and Cooperation Agency.

This project aims to alleviate the debilitating effects of language barriers between refugee and host community, absence of non-formal education opportunities because of the language barriers, lack of safe spaces caused by economical barriers and support for children and youth due to poor housing and domestic conditions, levels of distress within households stemming especially from financial challenges and post-war traumas, or a general lack of information in regard to access to rights, emerging as a direct result of aforementioned problems.

A new component named Women Solidarity Area enhances empowerment and integration of women beneficiaries. The beneficiaries participating in the courses are given training and counseling under the name of entrepreneurship. After the entrepreneurship trainings, IBC give support to realize their entrepreneurship ideas.
